SOMETHING ABOUT PAPER SAVINGS

Balancing some of its books last week on the cost of making and storing paper money, the United States Treasury announced that the change from large size bills to the smaller ones, manufacture of which started 10 years ago, has resulted in a saving of about $18,000,000. The old bills were approximately 81/2 by 31/4 inches in size. The present ones, which began circulating in July, 1929, are about 61/4 by 21/4 inches.

There would seem to be a thought here that if a reduction by one-third in the size of its paper money can save the government $18, 000,000, by lopping off another third in the dollar's dimensions a like amount could be saved in another decade. This second reduction would bring the bills down to about 41/4 by 13/4 inches in size. Rather too much like cigar or cigarette coupons, perhaps. But easy to hide when one is left uating from high schools and colfrom the weekly pay envelope.

So the reduction in the size of the dollar has saved us $18,000,000. workaday world for the first time, But the dollar's size isn't all. You wouldn't suspect to look at a dollar special interest centers on proposals that President Roosevelt had cut its value down to 59 cents. Eight and one-half inches long, or six and one-quarter, that's what it's worth,

MORE FIELDS TO EXPLORE

But it is not the conviction of the honest-to-goodness American who still has faith in the old maxims about thrift, personal ambition and sound thinking.

It is therefore interesting to note what William Allen White, the Today's students in their early Kansas publicist, in a recent address to the graduating class at Indiana university, said about the "Joe College" of the graduating class of 1939, whom he termed is as much of a pioneer as was Daniel Boone in the much earlier. At this statement, the good old days, and with even greater opportunities. He said:

"Joe College, great grandson of Daniel Boone, who uncovered the increment of land values that made America comfortable for our grandfathers, is plunging just as definitely into the unknown as old Daniel nowledged that youth is very enthustalked into the wilderness and raised his rifle 'and another redskin stastic and eager to try its hands at bit the dust.' The difference is that the American frontier now lies in the laboratory of science.

Here is a truth worth noting. America's geographic possessions pots voting now without increasing are now explored. But the realms of science hold deeper and more promising possibilities than did the wilderness of Kentucky and Indiana, more than a century ago. What we need is pluck, perseverance and thrift. There is still plenty of room at the top. But the summit of achievement cannot be reached by looking to Uncle Sam for support.

Blessed are the ignorant. It is so much easier to condemn evil nations if you don't know the history of your own.

Vandenberg Is Out In Lead Single Term Pledge Clincher Places Him Ahead Of Dewey

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, June 22.-If Republican presidential straw vote were to be taken right now I fancy that Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, would head the list. He was about second in line, trailing Thomas E. Dewey, on recent tallies, whatever they may have been worth. Today I believe, from talks I've had with numerous G. O. P. politicians on Capitol Hill, that he'd nose out Tommy. His one-term declaration is what appears to have done the business. Had Dewey thought of it first probably he would have greatly increased his lead ahead of Vandenberg. He didn't think of it first, though. Vandenberg did. It was an extraordinary bright political hunch. #### Other Matters Involved

Other things are involved, too. Senator Vandenberg implies that a lot of New Deal policies have been very popular, but, in his opinion, nationally very injurious. His hint is that the next president (if an anti-New Dealer) will get himself thoroughly disliked by fighting for a return to what he considers sound economics. "O. K.," is his answer. # REORGANIZATION AT THE CASTLETON

Since Thursday afternoon, June 15, a part of the employes of the Castleton Hotel have been on strike. The group affected includes waiters, bell boys and kitchen crew. All other departments are at work.

At the time the strike was called the waiters and bell boys made certain requests for adjustment of overtime pay and the furnishing of uniforms. Union recognition was asked, job security and seniority in the matter of layoffs.

Without exception these requests were granted. There never was, nor is there any disposition upon the part of the management to refuse union recognition, and the other adjustments asked were granted without any dispute.

Since then other demands have been made which would add still further to the cost of operation of the hotel. Some of these were dropped by union representatives, but others have been

Because the Castleton Hotel is owned, operated and controlled by New Castle citizens, a number of citizens have lent their good offices towards effecting a settlement. This is particularly true of Walter Ringer and Frank O. Raney of the Loyal Order of Moose, and Frank Doyle and J. K. McQuiddy of the Trades and Labor Assembly. Their time and energies towards a solution of the problem are appreciated.

At a meeting with union representatives and representatives of the departments of the hotel on Wednesday afternoon, the representatives of the waiters, bell boys, maintenance men and house men expressed themselves as satisfied with the agreement reached and said they would be willing to return.

Later the kitchen crew submitted further demands for additional help which were impossible to fulfill and still operate the hotel without loss. As the matter now stands, the only employes on strike who have not said they were satisfied with the agreement are the four men employed in the kitchen as cooks. exception the waiters, bell boys, house men and maintenance

The Castleton Hotel Management has been fair in the negotiations. Through the concessions granted a large sum has been added to the cost of operation. It can go no further and keep faith with the citizens of New Castle who, after all, are the

The Management would be happy to operate the hotel with the assistance of a large number of the former employees. However, if they do not return to work, other arrangements must be made.

In order that the matter be clearly understood, the Management wishes to announce that until five o'clock Friday afternoon, June 23rd, all employes who wish to work will report to the Management for an interview. After that, other applicants for positions will be hired. The Management regrets the necessity for such action, but it has gone as far as it possibly can in satisfying demands of striking employes.

FROM ME TO YOU

Do you know your New Castle. Do you know where each school is located . . . where each firehouse is situated. Why not look around and see the interesting sights. Had the pleasure of inspecting a piece of fire apparatus yesterday. A piece that has been in service here in New Castle since before the war. Charlie Colnot has just recently modernized this particular piece of equipment and it sure is a nice trim job. A new motor has been installed . . . new pumps . . . everything is down low and easy to reach . . . no straps hold anything on, it's all done with clamps, hand made by the mechanical force of New Castle. The completed piece of equipment is a real addition to the community. There is one more piece of equipment that needs similar attention . . . it is now sitting in the garage of the city mechanic. We would think it a wise move if council world order modernization of this piece of equipment. If the fire fighting equipment of New Castle is in good shape . . . it would save every property owner in the community hundreds of dollars. It's Thursday today . . . you still have time to plan a little outing for the l. w. and family this week-end. Why not get the char coal stove out and a few plates and the like together and with a few steaks and potatoes in your basket, travel to the outdoors. You don't need to go far and you don't need to spend a great lot of money . . . just take things easy and enjoy the company of your

This is our last chance to remind you that the High School Alumni Reunion will be held at Cascade Park tomorrow, Friday, June the 23rd, evening...The party starts at eight o'clock...A great program has been reported planned . . . with door prizes and all the trimmings. The price is very reasonable, only seventy five cents per couple. A local orchestra will render the music. Come on you old grads . . . attend this party.

Jay walking should be controlled here in New Castle. The next time you drive through town just count the number of times it would be possible for you to run down a jay walking pedestrian. We all want a good safety record . . . the motorist alone can't make this record . . . the pedestrian must help. Let's all try and remember to obey the traffic light while crossing or recrossing down town streets.
